Premier Ouster Sought

ALGIERS (AP) — Leftist rebels in western Algeria Tuesday demanded the resignation of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and his moderate government.

The rebels—followers of disident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella—made a veiled threat to use force if Ben Khedda failed to step down.

"USURPER"

Former deputy premier Mohammed Khider told a press conference at rebel headquarters in Tiemess that Ben Khedda and his regime were "a group of usurpers whose resignation would be an intelligent decision that would help" solve Algeria's political crisis.

Khider, top aide of Ben Bella, was the first minister to break with Ben Khedda when the dispute came into the open on the eve of Algerian Independence day, July 3. Unlike Ben Bella, Khider formally resigned from his government post.

VEILED THREAT

He warned that if the current secret conference of the six politico-military commanders of the guerrilla army failed to produce a satisfactory solution, "we will draw all the consequences from this failure, and will face all our responsibilities without exception."

Although he refused to amplify this remark, it was interpreted as a veiled threat to resort to force.

'Paper' in Space Puzzles X-15 Pilot

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Maj. Bob White Tuesday flew the X-15 rocket ship to record altitude for winged aircraft of almost 59 miles, and reported seeing a strange paper-like object tumbling in space.

"We've never seen anything like this before," the 36-year-old air force test pilot said with reference to past X-15 flights. "I haven't the slightest idea what it was."

White reached an altitude of 310,000 feet — or 58.7 miles, according to preliminary figures. That qualified him under air force regulations as America's fifth astronaut and the first in a winged aircraft to fly higher than 50 miles.

As White neared the end of his flight, he radioed "this gets better all the time, it's a fantastic view."

The altitude record is subject to adjustment after the national Aeronautics and Space Administration makes a final study of flight data. White will be presented with astronaut wings at a ceremony in Washington today. He — along with three fellow test pilots in the X-15 — also will receive the Distinguished Service Medal and Collier trophy.

New Proposals?

Medicare Mood Changing

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan's doctors were reported softening in their opposition to the province's medical care insurance plan as the focal point of the two-year-old dispute swung northward to Saskatoon Tuesday.

Dr. H. D. Dalgleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, is to address the provincial convention of the CCF-NDP at Saskatoon this afternoon and there was speculation that he would make a new proposal for solution of the impasse. (See also Page 5.)

He said at a Saskatoon press conference Tuesday that he was undecided about what to say at the convention, but later added: "There are other ways of instituting (medical care) insurance that have never been seriously considered by both parties."

A college spokesman said the college's opposition has softened since the government implemented its comprehensive, prepaid medical care plan.

BEGIN ARGUMENT

Argument began in Queen's Bench Court here Tuesday for an interim injunction that would suspend the act until its validity could be tested in the courts in September.

Most other action in the controversy was scheduled for Saskatoon, where Premier Woodrow Lloyd, whose leadership of the provincial CCF-NDP goes on the line at a convention election, was to report to the convention this morning on medical care, before Dr. Dalgleish's address.

It also was announced that Dr. J. E. C. Anderson, past president of the Canadian Medical Association, was on his way to Belfast to address a policy-making meeting of the British Medical Association.

It was also learned that the Saskatoon Keep-Our-Doctors Committee has sent three men to England to present to British doctors the doctors' side of the case.

Strike Is Off

ROME (Reuters) — Italy's 25,000 hospital staff doctors Tuesday agreed to call off a four-day strike scheduled to start today.

The cancellation came after last-minute talks with the government.

The doctors called the strike to support demands for higher pay and better career prospects. Skeleton services would have been on call to attend emergency cases in hospitals.

Prober

Mr. Justice H. F. Thomson of Wolseley, Sask., has been appointed as one-man Saskatchewan royal commission to investigate complaints concerning granting of hospital privileges to certain doctors.

Kennedy Plan Loss 'Severe Blow to All'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Tuesday killed by a 52-to-48 vote President Kennedy's plan to help the elderly pay hospital and nursing care bills.

bringing a prompt denunciation from the president.

Within an hour after the legislative setback for the administration, Kennedy appeared before reporters to call the action "a most serious defeat for every American family."

He said he will offer the plan again next year and appealed to the voters to show they want it by their choice of members of Congress in November elections.

LONG DICKERING

The climactic action, after months of pressure and dickering by both sides, gave a psychological lift to members of Congress seeking to block other Kennedy proposals. It came on top of defeat of Kennedy's farm and urban affairs department proposals, alteration of some key administration bills as aid to education.

Twenty-one Democrats — 17 of them southerners — joined 31 Republicans in dealing death blow to Kennedy's social security approach to health care for the aged. Only five Republicans — who so-sponsored the plan — joined 43 Democrats in trying to save it.

It was the first time all 100 members were on hand for a vote since last February.

Iranian Cabinet Resigns

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The Iranian cabinet headed by Premier Ali Amiri, who brought pledges of economic reform and clean government into office 14 months ago, has resigned. It was announced today.

The mass resignation came during a budget dispute. The wealthy premier had been threatening to quit for the past week unless he was permitted to present "a reasonable budget."

Financial experts said the resignation was a certainty since Iran's economic problems made Amiri's budget all but impossible.

Military Pressure

Foiled Voters Back Ex-Chief of Peru

LIMA (AP) — Followers of Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, front-runner in the June 10 presidential election, Tuesday night threw their support to retired Gen. Manuel Odría for Peru's presidency.

Headquarters of Haya's popular Revolutionary Alliance said it will back Odría in an effort to end the political crisis resulting from armed forces' opposition to Haya.

There was no immediate word on the military reaction to the move. Earlier in the day chiefs of the army, navy and air force called on the national electoral board to annul the election.

REJECT DEMAND

Outgoing President Manuel Prado rejected a similar demand by the military Monday night. This led to the resignation of President Carlos Manuel Prada and his cabinet.

The mass resignations touched off reports of a possible military takeover.

Haya led a seven-man field, including Odría, in the election but failed to obtain the required one-third of the total votes.

Under the constitution, Congress now must choose a president from three leading contenders.

Odría headed Peru's government from 1948 to 1956.

Experts Claim:

Anti-Smoke Advisers Break Law

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Staff Writer

Victoria's embattled smoke advisory committee has broken its own smoke bylaw, legal experts told the Colonist yesterday.

Careful scrutiny of the smoke bylaw and recent events in the city's on-again-off-again crusade to purify Victoria skies indicated a chain of bylaw infractions by the board dating back to July 3 when it approved a two-week moratorium on legal action against industrial violators.

Sources familiar with municipal law say the board has no right to suspend the bylaw.

The board, said the experts, also effectively prevented city smoke inspector Thomas Walker from fulfilling what the smoke bylaw terms his "duty."

In issuing the first two-week truce in which smoke bylaw offenders would be warned and not prosecuted, the board not only usurped illegally the powers of city council to suspend a bylaw, but also exceeded its own powers as set forth in the smoke bylaw, said the experts.

THREE INSTANCES

Yesterday the board contravened the bylaw in three separate instances:

- It carried out the functions of the board without a quorum.
- It exceeded its powers in issuing the moratorium.
- It acted outside its powers as defined in the bylaw.

NAME CHANGE

And according to one interpretation of the bylaw the board could be prosecuted under the same charge as that laid by the city against smoke offenders.

The bylaw makes liable to prosecution every person who

Berlin Troops 'No Issue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported to have told Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin Tuesday night that the withdrawal of Western troops from Berlin is not a negotiable issue.

UNUSUAL TALK

The president was said to have stressed a new Western determination on Berlin in an unusual talk with Dobrynin which lasted nearly an hour.

The two conferred alone, without aides, in the president's office. Dobrynin speaks English fluently.

MAJOR ISSUE

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy brought up the major issues of Berlin, disarmament, nuclear testing and Laos.

At this juncture in U.S.-Soviet relations, with State Secretary Dean Rusk about to leave for East-West talks at Geneva, Kennedy decided to talk personally with the Soviet ambassador on the major questions.

De Gaulle Seeks U.S.-Style Post

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle was reported ready Tuesday to press a drive to change his office into something resembling the U.S. presidency and to create a vice-president's post for his eventual successor.

The way for de Gaulle's plan was cleared by Monday night's government victory in a census vote aimed at up-setting his government and by the extension of his special powers to enable him to suppress his right-wing enemies.

The French leader is known to want the constitution changed so that a president can be elected more along the American pattern and to provide for an heir to the presidency in the form of a vice-president.

Four questions concerning de Gaulle's project have been submitted in parliament by Communist leader Jacques Duclos, Socialist parliamentary leader Antoine Courrière, former interior minister François Mitterrand and independent deputy Guy Petit.

The questions add up roughly to this: Is de Gaulle planning to alter France's existing institutions by resorting to another popular referendum?

MAPPING STRATEGY

Senate President Gaston de Monnerville, who would become acting president if anything happened to de Gaulle, already has come out openly against any change of the constitution, except through strictly legal channels.

This means that de Gaulle would have to obtain the approval of the national assembly for the constitutional changes he wants.

Prober

Mr. Justice H. F. Thomson of Wolseley, Sask., has been appointed as one-man Saskatchewan royal commission to investigate complaints concerning granting of hospital privileges to certain doctors.

Nazis Beat Brand Jew

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (Reuters) — Dr. Maximo Huel Blanc, an Argentine Jew, was beaten unconscious by four unidentified youths Monday night, bundled into a car and branded with swastikas on his thigh.

It was the third similar incident in recent days. Police sources described the assailants as a small group of pro-Nazis trying to stir up trouble in university circles.

Back from Peace Rally

Russians More Tolerant Toward West—Chisholm

Dr. Bruce Chisholm, just back from Moscow where he attended a worldwide peace congress, said last night there are indications of increased interest by people everywhere in survival.

He said the 2,800 delegates from 119 countries produced a wide variety of attitudes while generally subscribing to the view that survival of the human race was in great danger.

Dr. Chisholm termed this a "healthy phenomenon" and noted the absence of party line from congress proceedings.

He attended the seven-day congress at the personal invitation of A. V. Topchov, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, whom he met at Pugwash, N.S.

After addressing the congress, Dr. Chisholm was elected chairman of the final plenary session which produced a statement affirming delegates' faith that ultimate destruction can be avoided by application of reason and good sense.

Dr. Chisholm, one of 47 Canadians to attend the congress, said he found among the Russian people he met during his stay a general progression towards "showing more tolerance for Western peculiarities."

He added, "I hope we in the West are moving in the same direction and are becoming more tolerant of their peculiarities."

The congress, in retrospect, was extremely interesting and well worth attending, said Dr. Chisholm. "I don't think any one could go there with an open mind and fail to learn a great deal about things that are frightening people all over the world," he added.

I Missed Boat Nixon Laments

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richard Nixon hinted Tuesday he still has aspirations for the White House.

Answering questions on a taped television show, the former vice-president was asked to respond to the phrase "If I could be a moment in history."

Nixon's one-word reply was "President."

Nixon, defeated by John Kennedy in 1960, was taping an appearance on the Your First Impression television show in which a mystery guest comes before the show's panel and is identified by his responses to certain phrases.

Responding to a query whether he had a single regret, Nixon answered, "I wasn't assigned to duty on a PT boat."

DR. ROBERT SOBLEN

Doomed Red Spy Fights for Life In London Court

LONDON (UPI) — Fugitive Soviet spy Dr. Robert Soblen, 61, pleaded Tuesday for political asylum in Britain or "a country of my choice." He told Britain's highest court he wounded himself on a U.S. bound airliner not as a suicide attempt but to escape return to America.

plane bringing him back from Israel July 1 because he was innocent of wartime espionage. He faces a life term in prison if he returns to the U.S.

POSSIBLE DEATH

A doctor testified, however, Soblen probably would have died to death unless taken off the Israeli airliner at London and given medical treatment. Soblen's hopes lie not in the dramatic affidavit he laid before the lord chief justice's court, but in intricate legal manoeuvres by a battery of experts working for him.

FINAL SESSION

Government lawyers, led by new Attorney-General Sir John Hobson, must refute those arguments in a final session today or risk seeing Soblen go free.

Soblen claimed return "would inevitably result in my death in prison."

HIS ONLY WISH

"My only wish now," he said, "is to be allowed to live quietly, or if I am not permitted to stay in England, then I should like to go to the country of my choice."

The Lithuanian-born psychiatrist did not specify the country.

1,800 Germans Defeat Wall

BERLIN (Reuters) — About 1,800 East Germans escaped across the heavily guarded borders into West Berlin during the first five months of this year, an official said Tuesday.

Tshombe, who has raised hopes in negotiations with Adolphe Kasongo, sent a "solemn and energetic" protest to Robert Gardiner of Ghana, UN chief in The Congo.

10,000 Women Scream, Tear In Fight with UN

ELISABETHVILLE (Reuters) — About 10,000 shrieking Negro women clashed savagely with UN troops outside this Katanga capital Tuesday and the government claimed three were killed and at least 19 injured.

The women hurled stones and clods of earth, tore at the soldiers' uniforms and set fire to the surrounding bush. The troops fired over their heads and brought up reinforcements.

Katanga blamed the UN for the deaths. A Red Cross worker also counted three dead—but the UN officially disclaimed responsibility. The UN said an ammunition check showed the UN troops had fired only nine shots, and that Katanga police and troops at the scene also had fired their weapons.

Euthanasia For Drug Victims?

LONDON (Reuters) — Two members of Parliament Tuesday served notice they will ask the government to authorize mercy killing or abortion of deformed baby victims of the tranquilizer drug thalidomide.

A Conservative member, J. S. Kerans, father of two, said he will ask the health minister in the House of Commons to "introduce legislation whereby in future cases of extreme deformity medical practitioners may be authorized to apply euthanasia."

END PREGNANCY

In the House of Lords, labor peer Dr. Edith Summerskill, mother of two, will ask the government "whether it can become permissible for a doctor to terminate the pregnancy of a woman when it has been definitely established that thalidomide has been administered to her."

800 BORN DEAD

A medical professor at Glasgow University, Dr. Edward Wayne, told a conference Monday an estimated 800 babies will be born dead or deformed in Britain as a result of the drug and the total world cases will be 3,000.

Railroads to Trim 13,000 Firemen

CHICAGO (AP) — The American railroads notified their union operating personnel Tuesday that economy and other steps recommended by a presidential commission will be put into effect Aug. 16.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the railroads' bargaining committee, said the move means elimination during the next year of about 13,000 firemen employed as second men on diesel locomotives in freight and yard service.

"The firemen displaced will receive unprecedented severance pay, retraining and retraining," Wolfe said.

Balloon Beetles Survive Gruelling Cosmic Test

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif. (AP) — The 2,000 beetles which flew 1,800 miles across Canada in a balloon last weekend survived exposure to cosmic ray radiation of deep space, Ames Research Laboratory announced here Tuesday.

Monkeys and hamsters died on the same flight.

The animals died because of a failure in the life support system supplying oxygen and heat during the flight in the 380-foot tall plastic balloon at heights of from 128,000 to 131,000 feet.

The sealed capsule, containing the beetles, yeast, and seed samples of corn, beans and blue lobelia and human nerve cells were being flown here from Edmonton. The contents will be delivered to a team of university of California scientists.

LA PAZ (Reuters) — Indian villagers have the Bolivian government, the U.S. embassy and the press puzzled with a tale of a puma which they think arrived in a space capsule.

Manuel Orozco, mayor of the village Ayo-Ayo 40 miles from here, reported to the government a strange metallic object was seen in the sky June 30 and appeared to fall into a nearby ravine.

Next day a strange animal appeared in the neighborhood.

Villagers killed the animal with sticks and stones and ate it. The U.S. air attaché, Col. Paul Wymer, bought the skin. It was later identified as a puma—a big South American cat which is not normally found on the Bolivian high plateau.

Orozco, his son Manuel, 20, and many other villagers saw the flying object, which local reporters christened "the space capsule."

They are convinced the puma arrived in it and say it seemed tame—or perhaps stupefied by the change of climate.

U.S. Ambassador Ben Stephansky asked the Bolivian air force to investigate but they found no trace of the "capsule."

Commonwealth Parley

Deadlock Forecast

By ALAN HARVEY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

The suspicion is growing in British political quarters that the September conference of Commonwealth prime ministers may fall short of its original objectives.

Though there is little likelihood of the Sept. 19 opening date of the conference being changed, it is felt the meeting will not after all provide the Commonwealth's last word on whether or not Britain should join the European Common Market.

As originally envisaged, the London talks were expected to be among the most important the Commonwealth family has held. Britain had hoped to have by September a broad outline of the kind of terms on which she could become a member of the European club.

Every passing day, however, makes it look less and less likely that an autumn agreement will be possible. The Brussels negotiations appear to be making little progress, and it is unlikely there will be any dramatic developments in a holiday month like August.

Some British negotiators are hopeful of a breakthrough. Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath still puts an optimistic face on things. But observers noted that Prime Minister Macmillan was conspicuously cagey in his statements in the Commons last Thursday.

If the September conference finds Britain unable to present even the broad outline of terms for British entry, a second conference of Commonwealth premiers might be required.

Britain Raps Red Points

GENEVA (Reuters) — Britain urged the Soviet Union Tuesday to make bigger changes in its general disarmament plan, criticizing "three basic points" in Russia's new proposals.

Joseph Godber, British delegate to the 11-nation conference, also listed 11 points for "discussion in depth" at the parley.

DUE TO MEET

Meanwhile, the three-power nuclear test-ban subcommittee of the conference was due to meet here today after a month's recess.

At Tuesday's disarmament conference session, the Briton criticized the Soviet plan because:

1. It went against the principle that no side should gain military advantage over another during disarmament.

'UNREALISTIC'

2. It called for the "unrealistic" total elimination of nuclear delivery vehicles and the complete dismantling of foreign military bases in the first stage of disarmament.

3. It demanded the total elimination of nuclear weapons in the second stage, which he also said was "unrealistic."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy conferred Tuesday with Soviet Ambassador Dobrynin on Berlin and disarmament amid signs East-West negotiations on these issues may be near a turning point.

The White House meeting, called by the president, preceded talks this week in Geneva between Secretary of State Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko.

Troops Take Part In Atomic 'First'

CAMP MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — The United States fired a nuclear battlefield weapon apparently in its vaunted Davy Crockett mortar, with troops present in an atomic "first" Tuesday.

Nine-hundred soldiers took part in the first American atomic test in five years to use troops.

The U.S. army said two years ago the Davy Crockett — designed to attack enemy military positions under tactical conditions — dwarfed in fire-power anything ever known in the immediate battle line.

The weapon is in the hands of some American units in Europe, with the nuclear warheads controlled by special units subject to the president's orders.

The mortar's shell has a blast power of below 1,000 tons of TNT, for use against such concentrations, supply dumps and tank concentrations.

Canadian Gadgets Facing Acid Test

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian research into a counter-missile system will receive the acid test later this year in Pacific trials of the United States Army's Nike-Zeus.

The U.S. Army will not only attempt to intercept an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile with the practice Nike-Zeus system based on Kwajalein Atoll but will try to distinguish between the Atlas rocket and accompanying decoys.

It is on this latter operation scientists of the Canadian armament research and development establishment at Valcartier, Que., have been working for several years. The establishment is a branch of the Defence Research Board.

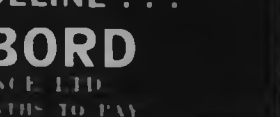

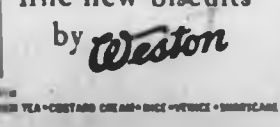

The board declined to comment Tuesday on how successful Canadian laboratory experiments have been in the field of discrimination between rockets and decoys and other "space garbage" beyond saying that the Valcartier establishment has been doing work for the U.S. in this regard.

There has been a recent tightening of security in the U.S. on orders of President Kennedy and this of course applies to research undertaken for the U.S. in other countries.

No Cheers for Mac

LONDON (Reuters) — The opposition Labor Party Tuesday submitted a motion in the House of Commons calling for the dissolution of Parliament and a general election.

The move followed Prime Minister Macmillan's drastic reshuffle of his Conservative party administration over the last four days.

It was greeted by a minor uproar.

By tradition censure motions are debated as soon as possible and Tuesday's resolution was likely to go before the House early next week. Several of Macmillan's ousted ministers were expected to come under fire in the debate, including former treasury chief Selwyn Lloyd and former defence minister Harold Watkinson.

But political quarters felt that only a mass defection of Conservative back-benchers could bring down the Macmillan government, and that Lloyd would not lead any internal revolt against Macmillan.

LOUDLY CHEERED

Lloyd was loudly cheered by members from all parties Tuesday however, when he entered the House for the first time since he was fired.

There were no cheers for Macmillan when he arrived in the chamber following his second series of wholesale ministerial changes in less than four days.

His entrance coincided with an unfortunately-timed remark by new Colonial-Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys who was discussing colonial affairs.

GALES OF LAUGHTER

"The fact that you have power does not necessarily mean that it is always desirable or right to exercise it," he said, provoking gales of laughter from the socialists who saw it as a gibe at Macmillan.

Another minute-long burst of laughter came when Conservative Gilbert Longden made a reference to Macmillan's attitude about Britain entering the European Common Market which the MPs chose to interpret as referring to the fallen ministers.

Longden said: "May I congratulate the prime minister upon having kept his head while all about him were losing theirs . . ." He was cut off by the laughter.

Macmillan, whose face had been expressionless, commented amid further laughter: "I think this is a rather morbid allusion."

Medicare Invalid Lawyer Suggests

REGINA (CP)—Lawyer Allan Embury suggested in Court of Queen's Bench Tuesday that a May 4 government order - in-council establishing July 1 as the date of implementation of the Saskatchewan medical care insurance plan was invalid.

Mr. Embury, arguing for an interim injunction against the Medical Care Insurance Commission that administers the plan, said the injunction on the grounds of invalid implementation should hold until the government complies with the conditions of the Enabling Act.

The order-in-council of May 4, he said, noted that the implementation date "substantially affected" the plan.

Mr. Embury also is seeking the injunction of ground the act is ultra vires of the legislature.

SEEK SUSPENSION

The injunction is being sought by Hans Taal of Saskatoon, Dr. Lewis MacKenzie Brand of Saskatoon and Ralph Parry of Regina. Mr. Taal is an executive member of the Keep Our Doctors Committee, a movement which wants the government to suspend the controversial act.

The interim injunction would apply until their case comes before the regular court after the summer recess. Another case testing the act has been launched in Saskatoon.

Harbor Sees Survey Start

A federal survey of the Inner Harbor and the Causeway wall for possible harbor dredging began yesterday with drilling for soil tests. The drilling will take about a week and the survey is expected to be completed by mid-August.

Phone Operators, Company Agree

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. Telephone Co. and its telephone operators both accepted Tuesday proposals for a 35-hour work week and pay increases made by conciliation officer Don Tysoe.

About 1,200 workers are involved. The Federation of Telephone Employees, which bargained for the operators, said they approved the recommendation by a large majority.

The settlement cuts the work by 2½ hours effective Oct. 1.

The conciliation officer also awarded a 14-per-cent pay raise starting April 1 next year. Present scales range from $11.25 to $12.25 a day. Improvements in holidays, shift differentials, overtime and seniority clauses also were recommended.

Sons Burn Hall

CRESCENT VALLEY (CP)—Sons of Freedom Doukhobor arsonists burned down an old, brick hall at Caybrick, 25 miles north of here, Monday, police said. The building was at one time a Russian language school for the Doukhobors.

He said, "If the government makes bad laws, they have to answer ultimately to the people at the polls. It is not up to the courts."

Mr. Embury argued that the court had clear jurisdiction where a law was ultra vires of the provincial legislature.

Counsel for the commission, Derril McLeod, indicated he could present his defence during the morning session today.

Impossible to Simplify Law Governing Bingo 'Confused Legislation'

VANCOUVER (CP)—The law governing bingo is a confused piece of legislation, impossible to simplify and a problem to administer because it is unpopular, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said Tuesday.

He made the comment after denying that the term "occasional" used in the law to cover games for religious and charitable groups is being defined as meaning "once every three weeks."

Mr. Bonner said an official of his department who said those groups not conforming to the once-in-three-weeks ruling would be prosecuted was "probably misunderstood."

COURTS TO DECIDE

"There's been no statement about three weeks, four weeks, or any length of time," he said. It was for the courts to define "occasional" games.

The problem is, he said, that the Criminal Code restricts charitable and religious groups to occasional games while permitting bona fide social groups to operate differently.

OVER LINE

"Respectable and responsible organizations go increasingly to the edge of the line and over it," he said. "They assume the code considers good intentions, but it doesn't. This side of amendment of the code, it requires conscientious enforcement if the balance of the code is not to fall into disrepute."

Storm Crushes Eight Houses

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Seven persons were reported killed or missing Tuesday after a violent storm which destroyed eight houses, felled trees and ruined ripening crops around Nova Gradiska, an agricultural area in central Yugoslavia.

Rifleman Wounds Toronto Women

TORONTO (CP)—Three women were wounded Tuesday when hit with slugs from a .22-calibre rifle on busy Bathurst Street. Their wounds were not serious.

Police said a man has been arrested in connection with the shootings.

Stormont Vote

Police Guard Ballot Boxes

CORNWALL (CP)—Ballot boxes were placed under a 24-hour police guard Tuesday as a preliminary official count began of votes cast in Monday's Stormont election—which resulted in the hair-breadth victory of Liberal candidate Lucien Lamoureux.

Returning officer Alphonse Charron announced he has arranged with city police to maintain an around-the-clock vigil on the ballot boxes "until we are finished with them."

WEEK-LONG GUARD

This would mean they will be under guard in Mr. Charron's law office for at least a week, since the official count in the deferred federal election does not take place until next Monday.

Progressive Conservative candidate Grant Campbell, denied re-election to the House of Commons by 92 votes on the unofficial results tabulated Monday night, has announced he will seek a recount if the official count next Monday upholds the preliminary result.

Bearded Sailor Remanded

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bearded Gordon Edward Morris, 28, of HMCS Naden, was remanded for eight days Tuesday on charges of unlawfully being in a dwelling and indecent assault. Morris was arrested Saturday after a city woman said she woke up to find a red-bearded man in her bed.

Greater Victoria health officer Dr. J. L. Whitbread said last night it is time the community considered "well-being clinics" to provide better care for elderly people.

He told the Kiwanis Club of Victoria North, the elderly have been neglected and centres modelled on "well-baby clinics" should be set up.

LT-Col. R. F. Bruce, commanding officer of the First Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry since April, 1961, will leave Victoria in early August to join the directing staff of the Canadian army defence college at Kingston, Ont.

He will be succeeded by Lt-Col. G. G. Brown, an exchange officer with the First British Division Headquarters on the Rhine.

Funeral services will be held in Haywards at 3.30 p.m. today for long-time Victoria resident Harry Phillips, Finlayson Arm Road.

Born in Norwood, England, Mr. Phillips came to Victoria when he was 16 and lived here for 74 years. He was a member of the Army and Navy Veterans' Club.

A Victoria team placed third among 27 Pacific Northwest teams in the recent fifth annual Victoria skin diving competition in Brentwood Bay. The Victoria Skin Divers' Club team of Allen Hook, Bill Hook and Bob Mills speared 58 pounds, 12 ounces of fish.

Bill Hook's 19-pound, nine-ounce ling cod was the largest fish caught. Norm Pite of the Victoria Reef Divers won the paddleboard race and Ed

Longer Terms Urged For Jail Repeaters

WINNIPEG (CP)—Criminals with long records should receive heavier prison sentences, than they do now, the chairman of the National Parole Board said Tuesday.

T. G. Street said it was a waste of time to send a man with a long record to jail for less than two years.

"It should be five to 10 years," he said. "It's obvious they are going to commit crimes again."

With the longer sentence, the

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 200 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

The action of the government of B.C. in classing the playing of bingo as a form of gambling is absurd.

The British government has never been accused of permitting, let alone encouraging, gambling in any army barracks or encampments. Yet to my knowledge since Boer War days the game of house has been allowed. House which got the name of bingo when it crossed the Atlantic.

It may be a game of chance but you cannot gamble on it. Ask any old sweat about "clickety-click" or "the army pill it does you fine" and you'll learn about house. I've played it on the troopship going to South Africa, in the hospital at Malta and in the camps and barracks in England and the army authorities have never forbidden it.

Therefore I can only agree with Mr. Baker when he said, "The action of the attorney-general's department is another step in the elimination of personal freedom."

OLD SWEAT.

Animal Experiments

All humane and right-thinking Canadians will be shocked and distressed by the news of the release from Goose Bay, Labrador, of the balloon containing live animals by American authorities for research purposes, which ended at Prince Albert, Sask., in death for the captive creatures.

It does no credit to our authorities to participate in or allow such atrocities to take place over our own fair land.

In the last analysis, a nation is judged by its treatment of the weak and defenceless, be it man or animal.

What Dad Does

I am happy to enlighten Mr. Mortimore on a subject about which he makes enquiry in his column: "What does Dad do when a child in his car puts a hand over his eyes and another steps on the accelerator?"

What Daddy does . . . is to give a fast swipe with the right hand which will send the nearest child sprawling away from the wheel. He then pulls off the road at the first opportunity, stops the car, gets out, yanks first one child and then the other out of the machine, and whistles the everlasting day-lights, out of both. He then tosses them back into the back seat, turns around and drives home, and dumps both children into bed and he refuses to take them out driving again.

After a very short time of this he will be approached with tears and promises of better behavior. So he relents and tries again. . . .

Other people manage. A suitcase or something to make a table between the two in the back seat, with games or puzzles, plus a parental determination to stand for no nonsense, might prevent two more delinquents from endangering everybody else in future.

A U.S. Doctor's View

The July 7 copy of your editorial page made its way to San Diego. I would like to take this opportunity to express my views. I wholeheartedly favor the action taken by the physicians of Saskatchewan against socialized medicine. And I would be willing to bet heavily that the majority of the physicians in the U.S. feel the same way. And further, there can be no compromise on the issue of the free practice of medicine.

Further, I read the comments of the Washington Daily News on this matter. "The Saskatchewan doctors are sick, sick, sick," in the same editorial page and to this I say that you must understand that since Kennedy rule, freedom of the press in the U.S. has been dangerously threatened. If you are not a Kennedy-oriented paper, you are in jeopardy as a newspaper. . . .

'Smoke Law Broken'

violates any of its provisions "or who suffers or permits any act or thing to be done in contravention of this bylaw or who neglects to do or refrains from doing anything required to be done by any of the provisions of this bylaw . . ."

CARRIES FINE

Conviction under the penalty section of the measure carries a fine not to exceed $250. A charge can be laid for each day on which an infraction takes place.

Part 8 of the bylaw establishes that three members of the board shall constitute a quorum and confine the board's powers to acting in a general advisory capacity to council and to advise the smoke inspector "as to progress in fuel-burning technique and equipment."

TWO DECIDED

At a meeting of the board scheduled for yesterday two members, one less than required for a quorum, decided to extend the prosecution truce to Aug. 10.

Members present at the meeting were chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and Harold Gregson, a city appointee.

Asked about yesterday's quorumless meeting last night Ald. Edgelow said that in making the truce-extension decision he felt he knew how absent members would have voted.

FULL ACCORD

"I felt I knew how they would vote anyway—they were in full accord with our action before (when the first illegal truce was granted)."

"I will phone one of them tomorrow to get this confirmed so it is legal," he said.

Following the July 3 truce, smoke inspectors were instructed simply to issue warnings whenever plants were found contravening the bylaw.

Before the prosecution truce was agreed to, the city laid 10 charges against operators for alleged infractions. First test case trial is scheduled for city police court Aug. 7.

At yesterday's meeting smoke inspection chief William Jorgensen reported 11 infractions had been found during the two-week truce.

The meeting decided to extend the truce to Aug. 10 when city engineer James Garnett said it seemed there was no doubt smoke-producing industries are trying to meet the bylaw's requirements.

Ald. Edgelow and Mr. Gregson also agreed the city would immediately begin testing of smokestacks to check on fly ash and cinders.

Woman Faces Fall Trial

Mrs. Molly D. Carroll, 1711 Cedar Hill Road, was formally committed yesterday for trial at the Victoria fall assizes on a charge of causing death by criminal negligence.

The charge arose from a car collision April 19 at Foul Bay Road and Fairfield Road, in which Mrs. Blossom Smith, 66, of 1502 Regents Place, was killed.

Two sailors, Clarence Dockstader, 31, and Ronald Deyotte, 24, both of HMCS Naden, were fined $40 each in Sidney magistrate's court for careless driving as a result of what police termed a "drag race" on Beacon Avenue.

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own homes without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "every striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

Around Town Lottery Sought

Retired Victoria resident H. P. Wilson, 631 Harbinger, is gathering signatures here on a petition requesting a Canadian national sweepstakes or lottery.

The petition is circulating through Alberta and B.C. and its promoters intend to have it brought to the House of Commons. Would-be canvassers or signers are asked to phone EV 5-1175.

'Pink Slip' Agency Reopens

VANCOUVER (CP)—The house-trailer office of a Seattle insurance company, its methods of selling slightly changed, is back in business at Blaine, Wash., selling short-term coverage for U.S. travellers in B.C.

Police Friday padlocked the trailer on Highway 99 south of Blaine—the border point—and put burlap over the company signs advertising "pink slip" coverage.

COMPLAINTS MADE
The move was requested by B.C. Attorney-General Bonner. Motorists had complained there was misrepresentation in the company's slogans.

Joseph Shropshire, salesman for Ray Miller Agency, said Monday: "One of our signs didn't say enough."

PLAN CHANGE
Motorists said the sign in question simply told them that if they didn't have B.C. pink slips their cars could be impounded.

"We plan to alter that sign now and explain that a sign could be impounded after an accident in B.C. if there's no pink slip," Shropshire said.

Film Fare Varied

Films from Denmark and France will be featured along with two Canadian films at the international film festival in the Cameron Bandshell starting at 8.30 tonight.

Cars Big Obstacle In Bowling Issue

Parking seems to be the biggest obstacle to peaceful settlement of the simmering Oak Bay lawn bowling dispute.

Last week Oak Bay decided to double lawn bowling greens at Carnarvon Park despite complaints from residents that the new facilities would deprive children of playground area.

The greens are used by 120 members of the Oak Bay Lawn Bowling Club, which proposed the extension to provide more recreation for senior citizens.

WON'T SUFFER
"I have two little girls who play in the park every day and I don't think they're going to suffer because the greens are extended," said Mrs. J. B. Davis, 2695 Eastdowne. "After all, the senior citizens are entitled to their recreation too."

"But I do object to the parking," she continued. "The bowlers park in front of our place all afternoon and evening. There are cars on both sides of the street and no room for two vehicles to pass. It's the same on Harlowe Drive."

LOT ON HENDERSON
"I'm afraid that if the bowling club expands there'll be more cars," said Mrs. Edwin Rowbotham, 2695 Eastdowne. "I've no objection to the bowling but I don't know why (the members) don't park on Henderson Road where there's a parking lot."

"I phoned the municipality but they haven't done anything," she continued.

I. R. Fuller, 2725 Eastdowne, said: "Right now it's impossible to park within a block of our house during the bowling season which lasts from April to September."

FEARS ACCIDENT
He was afraid that some day a youngster would run between the cars and into an oncoming vehicle.

"There's no room at the park now for little children up to 12," complained H. L. Mathews, 2100 Allenby. "They've taken out the turf and most of the sand from the sandbox so there's nothing left but hard clay and a bit of tarmac."

"All that's left for the little children who use the park all day long are three swings and a slide."

"NOT FAIR"
He pointed out that a recent survey, which showed few children used the area to be taken up by the new greens, had been conducted after the changes to the turf and sandbox.

"It's just not fair to use a public park for a private club," he said. Public taxes go toward the maintenance of the park and the public should be able to use it.

Mr. Mathews felt lawn bowling was an expanding game and facilities at Carnarvon were limited.

"The bowlers would be better off at the new Henderson Park where they could use three sets of lawn and there would be plenty of parking facilities."

LONG-RANGE PLANS
O. M. Zimmer, treasurer of the Oak Bay Lawn Bowling Club, agreed that the game was expanding.

He said the club had long-range plans to extend into Henderson Park. "But we'd be lucky if we got those greens within 10 years."

"Why should members go a long way to bowl when there are facilities near home?" he asked, pointing out that most of the members live near Carnarvon Park.

"The parking season will be rectified at the beginning of the next season," he promised. "We are now asking members to park on Henderson Road if they can."

Club president W. D. Gowe said a committee had been formed to encourage members to park on Henderson Road.

"I don't know why people don't bring their complaints to the club," he said. "If they'd come to us we would have some chance of solving the problems."

Dangerous Neo-Nazis Dissolved

BONN (Reuters)—A "most dangerous" neo-Nazi youth organization dedicated to the revival of the "great German Reich" on a racial basis was dissolved Tuesday by West German authorities.

An interior ministry statement called the group—the National Youth Federation—the biggest and most dangerous extreme right-wing youth organization in the country. It said there were 900 members.

Senior Citizens' Plea

Saanich Urged To House Aged

The Victoria Senior Citizens Housing Society will ask Saanich council to sponsor a municipally-operated senior citizen housing project.

particularly for single persons who have to get by on small incomes.

Power Rates Down?

A B.C. Hydro and Power Authority committee will give "careful consideration" to a request for reduced electrical rates for industrial users in Greater Victoria. It was learned yesterday.

Ald. A. W. Thorne, chairman of the Greater Victoria industrial research commission which asked for the rate reduction to encourage development of industry here, said he had received "a positive reply."

SOME TIME
A letter from W. D. Kennedy, manager of the economic and commercial service division, stated it will be some time before numerous problems facing the new authority are solved. "Your representations, however, will certainly be carefully considered when industrial rates are reviewed."

The hydro official also offered the services of Ralph Graham, manager of the industrial development department, in helping the research commission encourage establishment of new industry here.

"We certainly will be taking advantage of this offer from time to time," said Ald. Thorne, under Street.

Victoria Bachelors Change Their Name

A fledgling social club which expected a Victoria membership of 1,500 in three years has changed its name and membership qualifications, temporarily suspended operations here and refunded $300 initiation fees to three of its 10 Victoria members.

The Victoria branch of Bachelors International was launched earlier this year. Since then, the name has become Dolphins and married people have been admitted because too many people suggested the club was a marriage agency, the group's Vancouver president said yesterday.

Interest in recreation clubs generally wanes during summer months and the Victoria branch is to reopen Sept. 1, Elmo Johnston said.

The three members who got their fees back were unhappy with the summer closing, he said.

Manager here next September likely will be Art Knight, formerly of Nanaimo.

Traveller from Victoria

'Sons' Sect Suspected For Blast on Ferry

Terrorism Feared Moving to Coast

A passenger travelling from Victoria is believed responsible for a pre-dawn, time-bomb explosion yesterday aboard the B.C. Government ferry Mv. Chinook.

It is suspected that a member of the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect planted the bomb in a lifebelt locker during the Chinook's last run from Swartz Bay Monday night.

In the minds of some officials, seriousness of the ferry bombing has taken second place to concern over what is shaping up as a full-scale transfer of terrorist activities from the strife-torn Kootenays to the Pacific Coast.

Meanwhile an RCMP bulletin to all Island detachments ordered increased vigilance at night, and a check of all licence numbers 420-201 to 427-700, presumably Kootenay licence plates, following the ferry blast and thefts of dynamite on the Island.

The department of public works was also reported to have notified all provincial offices to be alert for suspicious packages showing up.

If the Kootenay's rabid Freedomite Doukhobors have in fact exported bombings and incendiaries to the densely populated Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island areas, they will face no shortage of prime targets.

Within the past week, Freedomite-type incidents were reported four times in the Fraser Valley, where devices similar to those used by sect members were used on a sawmill and three farm buildings.

Many Prime Targets

It is generally understood that the radical sect directs its sabotage activities at targets which will bring them publicity.

Yesterday's ferry explosion brought terrorist activities right to the Pacific Coast where there are innumerable prime targets such as bridges and complex communications networks.

"We know this is a very serious problem," a senior RCMP official told the Colonist. "But there are so many targets in B.C. it would be humanly and financially impossible to put a guard on all of them."

"We also appreciate as policemen that putting a man in jail is not going to solve the problem." The terrorist crisis probably will ease only when the attitude of the "fanatics"—estimated to number as high as 2,000—can be changed, he said.

The ferry Chinook was racked by an explosion at 4 a.m. at her overnight berth at the Tsawwassen ferry terminal.

No one was injured. A three-man engine room crew asleep in another part of the vessel was awakened in time to extinguish a fire started by the blast.

Locker Blown Open

A life-belt locker in an after observation lounge was blown open, seven windows were shattered and some of the life jackets were burned, said a B.C. ferry service official. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

The Chinook was pulled off her scheduled 8 a.m. run to Swartz Bay and back while the crew searched for more explosives and while a steamship inspector and RCMP examined the damage.

She resumed service at noon. Attorney-General Bonner told the Colonist yesterday the method of operation and type of bomb used "appear to be of a West Kootenay pattern with which we are familiar."

An "expert" was brought down from the Interior to examine remnants of the bomb—a pocket watch and 40 per cent dynamite.

"The ingredients were familiar to detectives from the West Kootenay and there is a strong suspicion these people are responsible," said Mr. Bonner.

The Tsawwassen terminal is only 80 miles from Agassiz where a new federal prison is being readied for detention of Freedomites convicted of terrorist activities. A sawmill in the Agassiz area was destroyed last week.

All Ferries Searched

Preliminary hearings are being held in New Westminster for 70 of the sect's leaders charged with conspiring to intimidate the Canadian Parliament and the B.C. legislature with acts of violence.

All toll authority vessels were searched for bombs yesterday after the Chinook incident.

Mr. Bonner said the ferry manager would be responsible for working out a system of security precautions.

Monty Aldous, general manager of the ferry system, said special patrol officers will be placed on all ferries to guard against future bombings. Crew members will be required to make a thorough search before each sailing.

Meanwhile, Highways Minister Gagliardi said: "I think it's about time a serious look was taken at this whole situation. If it's the work of the people it is attributed to, drastic steps will have to be taken."

He said there was no sense in writing to Washington State Ferry authorities because, "they just laugh at you."

Mr. Johansen plans to write Governor Rosellini and other

New Start at 85

Jack Witty and Lucretia Lloyd-Jones of Kiwanis Villa, who say they believe in doing things in a hurry, are tying the matrimonial knot Thursday, four months after meeting and a week after he popped the question. Both 85, they have four children, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren between them. Mr. Witty proposed by telling his bride-to-be he was "thinking of changing your name."

Discrimination Charged

Bus Excluded Ferry Staff 'Just Laughs'

"They just laugh at you," an embittered Victoria bus operator said yesterday as he charged Washington State Ferry authorities with discrimination.

Oscar Johansen, partner in the newly-formed Century Bus Line, made his charge after the Washington State-owned Winslow ferry left one of his buses standing on the wharf for the third time since the start of the company's Victoria-Seattle run June 7.

"But they'll wait for Greyhound buses," he said.

Mr. Johansen spoke of one trip when his bus was left on the wharf. "If the ferry had waited one minute we could have driven aboard."

"We waited 45 minutes for the next ferry which was held more than three minutes for a Greyhound bus," he said.

A C & C bus was similarly snubbed, according to Mr. Johansen. "The driver was just buying his ticket when the ferry pulled out. And the gate wasn't even down."

He said there was no sense in writing to Washington State Ferry authorities because, "they just laugh at you."

Mr. Johansen plans to write Governor Rosellini and other

If Freeways Go In

Saanich Shudders At Heavy Price For Second Route

By IAN STREET

If the provincial government turns the Patricia Bay Highway into a limited access freeway, Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy said last night, the task of providing an alternate north-south route for local traffic will be beyond the resources of the municipality.

For this main reason, the reeve added, Saanich is continuing to press for retention of the present Pat Bay Highway for short-haul traffic while the proposed new freeway is built on a new location, following a parallel course.

TALKS ON REPORT

Reeve Murphy was commenting on a report carried yesterday in another newspaper to the effect that B.C. highways officials are planning to create four-lane freeways of Patricia Bay and Trans-Canada Highways in Saanich. Access would be limited to interchanges, the report said.

MONTHS AGO

The Daily Colonist first reported, several months ago, highway planners were surveying the route of a proposed freeway system embracing both Trans-Canada and Pat Bay highways.

(It was reported at that time the move was designed to speed up-land traffic to the Swartz Bay ferries, bypassing the city, and at the same time facilitate the flow of traffic to and from the city.)

WILL LOSE

Reeve Murphy said if the government's highway plans, as yet unfinalized, go through in the present form Saanich stands to lose heavily on at least two other major counts.

● The municipality will be faced with the crippling cost of extending and improving McKenzie Avenue from "Trans-Canada Highway right through to Gordon Head" to provide a major east-west traffic artery.

● The proposed new interchange system at the junction of Trans-Canada and Pat Bay highways will gobble up valuable commercial and industrial property in an area where the earliest logical development of light industry in Saanich is expected to come.

MAJOR HEADACHE

"According to plans we have received from the highways department," said Reeve Murphy, "this new interchange looks as if it will be a major headache to residents of the surrounding area and those who wish to use the (Town 'n' Country) shopping centre."

He added: "People will find themselves driving right by unless they choose the right lane about half a mile before they get to the interchange."

SEEN SYSTEM

Saanich planners, with support of other local planning bodies, are seeking an amended interchange system with the Trans-Canada Highway linking up with Douglas Street and the Pat Bay Highway connecting with the proposed new Blanshard Street extension.

PLANNED CUT-OFF

The proposed cut-off by way of McKenzie Avenue would solve the existing east-west traffic problem which exists not only for Saanich residents but those in Esquimalt, Oak Bay, and up-Island communities.

"It's another strong argument for amalgamation," said Reeve Murphy. "Even with 50-50 participation by the government."

Police said he had suffered from heart trouble for some time. They believe he had a seizure or a dizzy spell and fell 25 feet from the upper deck to the car deck.

SHORTLY BEFORE
The mishap is believed to have occurred about half an hour before the ferry docked on its Horseshoe Bay to Departure Bay run.

RCMP said the body will be shipped to Vancouver for burial.

Mr. Shives is believed survived by another son in Vancouver. His wife died four years ago.

Ruckus Moves To Court

Occupants of three cars got into an argument on Victoria's Pine Street about the way one driver had turned a corner.

Words (witnesses said) were followed by blows. Result:

FIVE CHARGES

Four charges of assault and one charge of careless driving. The first came, an assault charge against Albert Rondeau, 1159 View Street, opened in city magistrate's court yesterday, and was adjourned until July 27.

Rondeau was accused of aiming a blow at a man through a car window, seizing him by the necktie and trying to drag him out, and knocking two women unconscious.

BOTH KNOCKED OUT

One of his alleged victims was Ernest Cruickshank, 703 Connaught, who had just come away from a dance at 1:30 a.m. May 27 with Mrs. Cruickshank and their friends and neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hanson, 662 Pine.

Mrs. Ellen Cruickshank and Mrs. Dorothy Hanson testified that Rondeau—knocked them unconscious in quick succession when they tried to intervene.

COUNTER-CHARGE

Rondeau has laid a counter-charge of assault against Edward Hanson and Mrs. Dorothy Hanson, claiming that they attacked him.

Ernest Cruickshank is charged with careless driving.

Man Dies In Fall On Ferry

A man who plunged to his death yesterday aboard the B.C. government ferry, Tsawwassen was identified by Nanaimo RCMP last night as Arnold K. Shives, 79, of 777 Queens, North Vancouver.

His body was found on the ferry's loading ramp by two dockhands when they opened the double doors in the ship's hold to unload at Departure Bay near Nanaimo.

HEART TROUBLE

Mr. Shives was on his way to visit his son Paul, a captain on the B.C. ferry system, RCMP said.

Police said he had suffered from heart trouble for some time. They believe he had a seizure or a dizzy spell and fell 25 feet from the upper deck to the car deck.

SHORTLY BEFORE

The mishap is believed to have occurred about half an hour before the ferry docked on its Horseshoe Bay to Departure Bay run.

RCMP said the body will be shipped to Vancouver for burial.

Mr. Shives is believed survived by another son in Vancouver. His wife died four years ago.

PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. Anne B. Underhill of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory staff who is leaving shortly to take an appointment in the Astronomy Department of the University of Utrecht, Holland, has been honored at several farewell functions. Last Saturday, the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada entertained for her at the Newport Avenue home of Dr. and Mrs. John Climenhaga. They presented a leather writing case to Dr. Underhill. On Monday, the staff members of the observatory gave a tea at the observatory for Dr. Underhill. There were about 60 members and their families present. A piece of Eskimo sculpture was the parting gift.

Calgary Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Edelstein and daughter, Miss Patricia Edelstein will arrive from Calgary today to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. J. E. D. Bell, Cordova Bay Road until the end of the month. Later Lieut. and Mrs. Bell will leave for Portsmouth, England, where Lieut. Bell will take a naval training course.

To Marry in August

Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart, 1961 Garnet Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Josephine, to Mr. John Edward Bastin, son of Dr. Charles Bastin of Vancouver and the late Mrs. Bastin. The wedding will take place on Saturday, Aug. 18 at 8 p.m. in St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill Crossroad. Rev. T. D. B. Ragg will officiate.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Sheila Taylor was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Gordon M. Goodfellow, Mrs. D. MacKinnon and Mrs. Ross MacKinnon at the home of the latter, 1461 Richardson Street. A miniature wishing well contained the gifts. A yellow rosebud and stephanotis corsage was presented to the bride-elect while her mother, Mrs. Robert S. Taylor received feathered peach carnations. Those invited were Mrs. R. S. Taylor, Mrs. D. MacKinnon, Sr., Mrs. A. Taylor, Mrs. J. Walker, Mrs. W. Thomson, Mrs. A. McKeechie, Mrs. Donald C. MacKinnon, Jr., Mrs. G. Goodfellow, Mrs. H. McIvor, Mrs. H. Hodson, Mrs. Fred Colmer, Mrs. K. Kneebone, Mrs. M. R. Kidd, Mrs. W. Jobson, Mrs. M. Kerr, Mrs. Archie Watson and Miss Margaret Walker.

Beautiful Garden Scene of Wedding

The beautiful gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Clark were the setting for the wedding ceremony that united Kathleen Clark and Mr. Gerry ten Wolde in marriage, recently. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. ten Wolde, Steenwijk, Holland. Rev. Stanley Sears officiated.

The bride chose a white brocade dress for the double ring ceremony and carried a bouquet of tangerine carnations and stephanotis. The only attendant, Mrs. L. McCarthy, matron of honor, wore a pale blue brocade dress and carried white carnations.

Mr. Art Allen was best man. Following the reception held in the garden, the couple left on a honeymoon to Cowichan Lake and the Okanagan. The bride changed to a green wool suit with silk overblouse and white accessories. She wore a corsage of tangerine carnations. Mr. and Mrs. ten Wolde will make their home in Terrace, B.C.

Mrs. Murphy Will Open Garden Party

The Church of Our Lord will hold a centennial year garden party Saturday, July 21 from 2:30 to 5 p.m. The affair will be opened by Mrs. S. A. Murphy, wife of Reeve Murphy.

Conveners are Mrs. Lillian Lees, Miss Mabel Hawthorn, Mrs. E. Chipperfield and Mr. Manley Smith. There will be stalls of farm produce, preserves, embroidery, plants, etc. Special feature will be an organ recital by J. Ingram Smith in the church at 2 p.m. Tea will be served in the Criddle Hall.

This is an annual event in aid of the Bishop's renovation fund. Object is to preserve this historic church for Victoria.

Rainfall is less than two inches annually in the coastal desert of South-West Africa.

Reducing Is Easy With the Naran Plan

"I can wholeheartedly recommend the Naran Plan. I have lost 25 pounds in the last ten weeks in an easy and effortless way. Since losing this weight I feel so much better than I have in a long time." — G. Parr, Midland, Ontario.

Excess weight is bad for your health. Being fat is bad for your morale. If you look old, bulky and unattractive you feel discouraged and listless. Why go through another year suffering? Resolve to lose weight before another month goes by. The first step is always the hardest but once you have taken it the rest is easy. Take that first step today, go to your drug store and ask for the Naran Plan. It is inexpensive and sold on a money back guarantee.

Wrap Skinny Piece of Mink Around Wrist for Bracelet

By LILLIAN FOSTER

NEW YORK (TNS)—You'll see more fur trimmings in the new fall and winter fashions than you've seen in the past five years. Fur trimmings are being used so profusely in collections I'm seeing that they're now referring to wall-to-wall carpeting of the stuff.

I've noticed fur banding at the hem of a dress and coat. I've seen fur used in the lining of a suit jacket and the collar of coats.

A fur boa is used as an extra accessory around the neck of a basic costume. Instead of a regular bracelet this fall, you can wrap a skinny strip of mink, fox or sable snake-fashion around your wrist.

I saw a lot of fur used in the coats of Monte-Sano and Pruzan. Outstanding was a white linton tweed ensemble. The coat was lined with red fox and could be reversed.

WHITE MINK

Countess Alexander is a couturier who knows how to handle handsome materials. Her long dresses had a little back sweep to them. A green and gold lame had a white mink collar.

A suit of plaided mauve and brown tweed had collar and cuffs of Norwegian blue fox. A peppermint pink satin gown had a black jet top.

Mollie Parnis, who told me she has made up some Liberty paint silks for Mrs. Eisenhower to wear in their Scottish castle, showed some useful silk and worsted slender frocks. Several were in dark brown.

A red velvet suit with jet trimming was beautiful. I thought, So was an all beaded frock in pale grey and a pink velvet suit made box shape with gold braid.

LIGHT COLORS

Much color appeared in the Donald Brooks collection — rouge pink, parrot yellow. Most of his outstanding costumes were in snow white.

The Brooks silhouette generally was chemise, skimming easily over the body. In some instances, skirts had the hint of a flare; in others he marked the waistline a bit with a cummerbund inset of fabric.

Long stoles and numerous echoes of the trench coat in bulky wool coats were shown. He showed a black Alaska seal coat that was priced at $2,700.

The new coats in the Original collection gave a slim spare illusion but actually seem to float slightly away from the body. There were several wrap coats in soufite mohair with nary a button.

There were some fitted coats in the collection. I liked one in pale blue fleece and another in bottle green with turn-up collar.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The trouble started when I was pregnant with our second child. My husband borrowed money to buy a motorcycle. Believe me, it was the last thing we needed. He lied and said the motorcycle belonged to a fellow he worked with, but I learned different.

He started to stay out late and claimed he was working. I learned he was chasing around with a young motorcycle crowd. I told him to grow up and behave like a father or get out. He improved a lot after that.

Now it is two babies and three motorcycles later. He doesn't run around any more but he's a compulsive spender. He has borrowed money from everybody we know. Our credit rating is disgraceful. I'm afraid to answer the telephone or the doorbell.

He makes good money but we're always robbing Peter to pay Paul. What can a mother of four children do with a nut like this? — BROKE AND IN HOCK.

Dear Broke: Tell the nut to hand over his paycheck—uncashed—and settle for a pocket allowance.

Insist that he close all charge accounts. Follow through after one week has passed. If he hasn't closed them—you do it.

Get a list of everyone he owes. Start to chip away at each bill, no matter how small the payments. Any show of good faith will be appreciated.

If he refuses to cut out his irresponsible, adolescent behavior tell him to get out and stay out. The law says a man must support his family.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 12-year-old daughter showed up at the dinner table with a bouffant hair-do and black pencil outlining her eyes. I told her to leave the table and come back when she looked like a human being.

Her mother said I was too hard on the child and that all kids like to play at being grown up. She also said it's good for young girls to experiment with make-up and hairdos because it's something they will need to know when they are older.

Since I was outshouted and outnumbered I decided to keep quiet until I wrote to you. Do you believe it's all right for a 12-year-old girl to practice adult hairdos and make-up this way? — ONLY A FATHER.

Dear Only: And pray tell, what is she practicing to be—a house-haunter? The only time it's fitting for a 12-year-old to frizz out her hair and pencil-line her eyes is on Halloween.

Your wife is doing the child a grave injustice by encouraging this premature primping. Too many youngsters are robbed of their childhood by over-anxious mothers who can't wait to push their daughters into the boy-girl ratrace.

Confidential to AS CLOSE AS A QUARTER AFTER THREE: Reset your watch, Sister. Half-past twelve would make for a more lasting relationship.

Proceeds for Refugee Aid

ALDERMAN MRS. LILY WILSON ... to officiate

A garden party in aid of refugees is being sponsored by the Adoption Committee for Aid to Displaced Persons in Europe at 3150 Rutland Road, by kind permission of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Husband, on Saturday, July 21 from 2 to 5 p.m. The official opening will be by Alderman Lily Wilson at 2:30 p.m.

The Red Cross Water Safety Division will give a demonstration of shirt tail life saving and there will be side shows for children. There will also be home cooking, novelties, superlatives and plant stalls. A proportion of the proceeds will be used to assist European refugees in Germany, and the remainder will be given to organizations working for Hong Kong and Algerian refugees.

Dear Mrs. Packer: I thought you might like to pass on to your readers my husband's bright idea. Like most people we never knew what to do with ashes and cigarette butts when we had a cook-out or just relaxed in the garden.

One day my husband salvaged an empty (large size) juice can and put a couple of inches of sand in it, and into the small top opening he dropped his smoked cigarettes, where they immediately were snuffed out. This made such an ideal ashtray for outdoors (wind-proof and spill-proof) that I saved several cans and painted them to match our outdoor furniture. From time to time more sand has to be added to make sure cigarettes do not smolder when dropped in, but they last practically the whole summer without needing to be replaced, and we

Garden Notes

No Blooming Peonies

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRES

Peonies started out in fine fashion this year. The generally unpleasant weather we had this spring seemed to be just what the doctor ordered for these plants, which made vigorous and healthy growth. The buds formed on schedule and started to swell normally.

Then, in quite a few gardens hereabouts, trouble appeared. When the peony buds got to be about the size of a marble, everything stopped. The buds grew no bigger and, after hanging fire for a week or two, they dried up and fell off, and of course, there were no flowers. In some cases reported to me, the buds continued to swell to normal size and started to open, but the flower petals inside were brown and rotting.

These troubles stem from a fungus infection called botrytis, and when I use the word "fungus," I don't mean something that looks like a toadstool or mushroom, but a disease more closely resembling the dry rot that attacks wood or the mildew which forms on damp clothes.

As with nearly all fungus diseases, botrytis is fairly easy to prevent but almost impossible to cure. Fortunately, it doesn't attack the peony roots, but spends the winter on the base of the stems and on litter, emerging to reinfest the young shoots in the spring. This gives us an excellent opportunity to control the disease; by preventing this reinfestation, our plants can remain botrytis-free.

Fungicides are useful here, but by far the most effective control is simply good housekeeping in the garden. The first thing to be done is to pick off and burn any little mummified buds which may still remain on the peony plants. Any remains of flowers, either clean or with rotted petals, should also go to the incinerator.

Follow this up by giving your peonies a square meal, and for this I don't know of anything more reliable than these finicky plants than a half-and-half mixture of bone meal and wood ashes. If you get the ashes from your fireplace or incinerator, don't bother to sift them—those charred bits of wood and charcoal are all to the good and help sweeten the soil. A medium-sized peony plant will take about four cupfuls of the mixture, spreading it around the outside of the clump and scratching it lightly into the soil surface.

During the autumn tidy-up, scratch a little soil away from over your peony roots and cut down the topgrowth one inch below soil level. Don't go too deep, for the growth eyes in the root which will produce next year's stems are only two inches down. The idea of taking off the topgrowth a little below the soil surface is to make sure you get all the resting bodies of the botrytis organisms—you can sometimes see them as black, sooty deposits on the lower part of the stems.

Burn all this material—don't try to compost it or leave it lying around. Then clean up the peony bed with the rake and keep it clean, with no manure, no compost, no fallen leaves or twigs—nothing but bare soil throughout the winter and early spring.

In the spring, the same high level of garden hygiene should be maintained and, just as little red shoots come poking their noses through the soil surface, start a weekly routine of spraying or dusting. Any good fungicide will serve—captan, phaltan, ferbam or even potato dust. If you prefer a liquid spray—and I think perhaps it gives a somewhat improved coverage—a common household disinfectant such as Creolin, Creoloid or Jeyes Fluid will do a good job, mixed at the rate of one tablespoonful per gallon.

This weekly spraying or dusting, together with the general garden cleanliness, will put "paid" to the botrytis account.

Old Firm Does It Again!

LONDON (UPI)—The firm of Churchill and Moran, established 1943, is cautiously on the home stretch of what looks like another successful job.

Its sole business is cheating death.

And ever since the partners sealed their relationship with a handshake during the wartime Casablanca conference of January, 1943, business has been very good.

The senior partner—and only customer—Sir Winston Churchill, 57, was walking in his room at Middlesex Hospital yesterday only 20 days after he broke his thigh in a fall in Monte Carlo.

The junior partner, Lord Moran, smiled on this astonishing sight but made no plans to dispense with any of the corps of specialists he always calls on when the old firm has to swing into action.

But the Churchill family is now confident Sir Winston will leave the hospital—on his own feet. And plans are being made for him to convalesce at his country home at Chartwell, followed by a return to the warm sun of the south of France.

If this comes to pass it will be another triumph for two remarkable men. The world might have been very different if they had not met when Sir Winston was suddenly stricken with pneumonia after the Casablanca conference with President Roosevelt.

Lord Moran helped save the prime minister's life then. And he has done so a good half dozen times, and more, in the years between.

But brilliant as he is, Lord Moran would be the first to admit that he has had a most remarkable partner. Sir Winston's public career is merely fabulous. His medical history is positively fantastic.

He nearly died at 18 when he ruptured a kidney in a fall and was unconscious for three days. He nearly died when an automobile travelling at more than 35 miles an hour hit him in New York in 1932—when he was 57.

He was well into middle age but his many shattered bones healed so quickly he surprised his American physicians by calling for cigars and the kind of liquids not normally supplied hospital patients.

Then came the pneumonia attack in 1943. A few days after the crisis his aides were at first alarmed—and then awed—when Sir Winston insisted on taking over the reins of the war again.

In 1940 he suffered his first stroke, while visiting friends in the south of France.

In 1953 Sir Winston made the dramatic revelation to the House of Commons that he had been completely paralyzed by a second stroke in 1953. For days he could not talk or walk. But he willed himself to speak and move again—and doctors agreed that few men of his age, 79, could have made so complete a recovery.

He has had three other strokes since.

"He has strokes like other people have colds," said an admiring friend.

Sir Winston was so ill with pneumonia at Roquebrune in the south of France in 1960 that colleagues were discussing whether the sad news, when it happened, ought to be announced to the nation by the prime minister from 10 Downing Street—rather than in a medical bulletin.

They were lunching with Sir Winston a few days later.

In 1960 he fell and broke a bone in his spine. The bone mended perfectly although he was then 85.

Lord Moran, his ally in all these battles, cherishes an inscription which reads:

"To whose unfailing care I probably owe my life."

Not a bad testimonial from one partner to another.

SHEILAH GRAHAM Reports from Rome

'Not for That Woman'

ROME (NANA) — While Greta Garbo romps around with good friend George Melly, the latter's understanding wife Valentina is taking her summer holiday in Venice.

I heard a good story about Valentina, a talented dress designer: She was staying at the Gritti Palace Hotel in Venice when the manager asked if she would be kind enough to vacate her suite for five days. "We need it for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor," he explained. Valentina glared and replied: "No, not for that woman from Baltimore. I will give up my suite only for the Queen of England."

Elizabeth Taylor's children call Richard Burton "Papa." Well, it's a good safe name.

Walter Wanger has combined his lawsuit against 20th Century-Fox with Miss Taylor's. On the following grounds—that the studio promised to finance the picture. And, by cutting out some of the scenes, including the grave scene, the contract has not been fulfilled. Thus, after $32,000,000 were poured into "Cleopatra."

Here's something nice about Rex Harrison as told me by Numa Trosny, who plays a nice Greek in the picture. Rexy wired Wanger he would cheerfully return from London to Rome any time they need him for retakes and such—and at his own expense. Of course Rex can afford it with the $700,000 he was reportedly paid to portray Caesar in the movie, but some actors demand every cent they can get.

Burton, by the way, has called off doing another picture in Northern Italy when Cleo is completed, and at last report he was going to sign with the new Rodgers and Hammer musical for Broadway this fall.

The tangled question is: will Elizabeth be there, or Mrs. Burton—or both? Perhaps Philip Burton, who adopted and educated Richard when he was a small boy in Wales, and who now lives in Brooklyn, N.Y., will help unscramble this fantastic situation.

William Holden, in Paris after an operation to remove a cyst from his eye, reported, "I had such droopy eyelids I looked like Robert Mitchum."

Anatole Litvak gave me the news that Sophia Loren will star in his movie version of "A Shot in the Dark."

World's Fair Ideas

—By ART BUCHWALD

We drove by the site of the 1964 World's Fair in New York the other day, and it got us to thinking. We wondered what various nations would show at the fair.

In order to make a world's fair really worthwhile, each country must show the thing it values the most. The Vatican plans to send the "Pieta" statue and Ghana plans to send the gold bed one of its ministers' wives tried to buy during its austerity program.

Canada will display an old Canadian dollar which was once worth more than an American dollar, and Nationalist China will probably send the islands of Quemoy and Matsu on the theory that they're easier to defend off New York harbor than where they are now.

If "Cleopatra" is finished by 1964, Italy will send Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. Laos, Viet Nam, and Thailand will display the Mercedes-Benzes they bought with American aid.

France hasn't decided what its most valuable possession is. At the moment it's a man—a very special man, "President de Gaulle's only friend."

Hong Kong wants to have an exhibit showing how they could have built the same World's Fair at half the price. But what about the United States? What could it show to make its exhibit worthwhile?

It should show a typical American farm town such as Pecos, Texas, with its typical non-existent fertilizer tanks, as well as some typical grain storage elevators owned by a typical American farmer who might be named Billie Sol Smith.

The CIA building could also be very interesting. It could show the different stages the CIA went through before they captured Cuba, ending up with the actual seizure of Havana by anti-Castro Cuban forces.

Aussies Tackle Trade with Six

CANBERRA (Reuters)—Australia has negotiated tariff concessions covering trade worth $127,000,000. Australian (about $300,000,000) with the six European Common Market countries. Trade Minister John Ewen said Tuesday.

He said the concessions covered Australia's wool exports but did little to overcome Australia's problems in exporting to the Six the bulk of its agricultural products or its processed food.

Algeria

Premier Ouster Sought

ALGIERS (AP) — Leftist rebels in western Algeria Tuesday demanded the resignation of Premier Ben Yousef Ben Khedda and his moderate government.

The rebels—followers of dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella—made a veiled threat to use force if Ben Khedda failed to step down.

Former deputy premier Mohammed Khider told a press conference at rebel headquarters in Tlemcen that Ben Khedda and his regime were "a group of usurpers whose resignation would be an intelligent decision that would help solve Algeria's political crisis."

Khider, top aide of Ben Bella, was the first minister to break with Ben Khedda when the dispute came into the open on the eve of Algerian independence day, July 3. Unlike Ben Bella, Khider formally resigned from his government post.

VEILED THREAT
He warned that if the current secret conference of the six politico-military commanders of the guerrilla army failed to produce a satisfactory solution, "we will draw all the consequences from this failure, and will face all our responsibilities without exception."

Although he refused to amplify this remark, it was interpreted as a veiled threat to resort to force.

MAJOR WHITE
... back with record

'Paper' in Space Puzzles X-15 Pilot

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Maj. Bob White Tuesday flew the X-15 rocket ship to record altitude for winged aircraft of almost 50 miles, and reported seeing a strange paper-like object tumbling in space.

"We've never seen anything like this before," the 38-year-old air force test pilot said with reference to past X-15 flights. "I haven't the slightest idea what it was."

White reached an altitude of 310,000 feet — or 58.7 miles, according to preliminary figures. That qualified him under air force regulations as America's fifth astronaut and the first in a winged aircraft to fly higher than 50 miles.

As White neared the end of his flight, he radioed "this gets better all the time, it's a fantastic view."

The altitude record is subject to adjustment after the national Aeronautics and Space Administration makes a final study of flight data.

White will be presented with astronaut's wings at a ceremony in Washington today. He — along with three fellow test pilots in the X-15 — also will receive the Distinguished Service Medal and Collier trophy.

New Proposals?

Medicare Mood Changing

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan's doctors were reported softening in their opposition to the province's medical care insurance plan as the focal point of the two-year-old dispute swung northward to Saskatoon Tuesday.

Dr. H. D. Dalgleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, is to address the provincial convention of the CCF-NDP at Saskatoon this afternoon and there was speculation that he would make a new proposal for solution of the impasse. (See also Page 5.)

He said at a Saskatoon press conference Tuesday that he was undecided about what to say at the convention, but later added: "There are other ways of instituting (medical care) insurance that have never been seriously considered by both parties."

A college spokesman said the college's opposition has softened since the government implemented its comprehensive, pre-paid medical care plan.

BEGIN ARGUMENT
Argument began in Queen's Bench Court here Tuesday for an interim injunction that would suspend the act until its validity could be tested in the courts in September.

Most other action in the controversy was scheduled for Saskatoon, where Premier Woodrow Lloyd, whose leadership of the provincial CCF-NDP goes on the line at a convention election, was to report to the convention this morning on medical care, before Dr. Dalgleish's address.

SPEECH SLATED
Also on the convention program was a speech by British Labor peer Lord Taylor, invited to Saskatchewan by the government for medical care discussions.

It also was announced that Dr. J. E. C. Anderson, past president of the Canadian Medical Association, was on his way to Saskatoon to address a policy-making meeting of the British Medical Association.

It was also learned that the Saskatchewan Keep-Our-Doctors Committee has sent three men to England to present to British doctors the doctors' side of the case.

Strike Is Off

ROME (Reuters) — Italy's 25,000 hospital staff doctors Tuesday agreed to call off a four-day strike scheduled to start today.

The cancellation came after last-minute talks with the government.

The doctors called the strike to support demands for higher pay and better career prospects. Skeleton services would have been on call to attend emergency cases in hospitals.

Prober

Mr. Justice H. F. Thomson of Mooseley, Sask., has been appointed as one-man Saskatchewan royal commission to investigate complaints concerning granting of hospital privileges to certain doctors.

Kennedy Plan Loss 'Severe Blow to All'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Tuesday killed by a 52-to-48 vote President Kennedy's plan to help the elderly pay hospital and nursing care bills.

bringing a prompt denunciation from the president. Within an hour after the legislative setback for the administration, Kennedy appeared before reporters to call the action "a most serious defeat for every American family." He said he will offer the plan again next year and appealed to the voters to show they want it by their choice of members of Congress in November elections.

LONG DUNKING
The climactic action, after months of pressure and dickering by both sides, gave a psychological lift to members of Congress seeking to block other Kennedy proposals. It came on top of defeat of Kennedy's farm and urban affairs department proposals, alteration of some key education bills as aid to education.

Twenty-one Democrats — 17 of them southerners — joined 31 Republicans in dealing the death blow to Kennedy's social security approach to health care for the aged. Only five Republicans — who co-sponsored the plan — joined 43 Democrats in trying to save it.

It was the first time all 200 members were on hand for a vote since last February.

The congress, in retrospect, was extremely interesting and well worth attending, said Dr. Chisholm. "I don't think anyone could go there with an open mind and fail to learn a great deal about things that are frightening people all over the world," he added.

Canada Minute Behind

OTTAWA (CP) — For two hours Tuesday, Canada was 99 seconds behind the rest of the world.

The Dominion Observatory said a new technician who was "a wee bit green" caused the "embarrassing" situation.

A power failure at the observatory transmitter interrupted the short-wave signal, which is Canada's official timepiece. The clock which controls the continuous broadcast recording was reset one minute slow.

Military Pressure

Foiled Voters Back Ex-Chief of Peru

LIMA (AP) — Followers of Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, front-runner in the June 10 presidential election, Tuesday night threw their support to retired Gen. Manuel Odría for Peru's presidency.

Headquarters of Haya's popular Revolutionary Alliance said it will back Odría in an effort to end the political crisis resulting from armed forces' opposition to Haya.

There was no immediate word on the military reaction to the move. Earlier in the day chiefs of the army, navy and air force called on the national electoral board to annul the election.

REJECTS DEMAND
Outgoing President Manuel Prado rejected a similar demand by the military Monday night. This led to the resignation of Premier Carlos Moreyra Paz Soldan and his cabinet.

The mass resignations touched off reports of a possible military takeover.

Haya led a seven-man field, including Odría, in the election but failed to obtain the required one-third of the total votes. Under the constitution, Congress now must choose a president from three leading contenders.

Odría headed Peru's government from 1948 to 1956.

Experts Claim:

Anti-Smoke Advisers Break Law

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Staff Writer

Victoria's embattled smoke advisory committee has broken its own smoke bylaw, legal experts told the Colonist yesterday.

Careful scrutiny of the smoke bylaw and recent events in the city's on-again-off-again crusade to purify Victoria skies indicated a chain of bylaw infractions by the board dating back to July 3 when it approved a two-week moratorium on legal action against industrial violators.

Sources familiar with municipal law say the board has no right to suspend the bylaw.

The board, said the experts, also effectively prevented city smoke inspector Thomas Walker from fulfilling what the smoke bylaw terms his "duty."

In issuing the first two-week truce in which smoke bylaw offenders would be warned and not prosecuted, the board not only usurped illegally the powers of city council to suspend a bylaw, but also exceeded its own powers as set forth in the smoke bylaw, said the experts.

THREE INSTANCES
Yesterday the board contravened the bylaw in three separate instances:

- It carried out the functions of the board without a quorum.
- It extended the no-prosecution truce.
- It acted outside its powers as defined in the bylaw.

NAME CHANGE
And according to one interpretation of the bylaw the board could be prosecuted under the same charge as that laid by the city against smoke offenders.

The bylaw makes liable to prosecution every person who

De Gaulle Seeks U.S.-Style Post

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle was reported ready Tuesday to press a drive to change his office into something resembling the U.S. presidency and to create a vice-president's post for his eventual successor.

The way for de Gaulle's plan was cleared by Monday night's government victory in a census vote aimed at upsetting his government and by the extension of his special powers to enable him to suppress his right-wing enemies.

The French leader is known to want the constitution changed so that a president can be elected more along the American pattern and to provide for an heir to the presidency in the form of a vice-president.

Four questions concerning de Gaulle's project have been submitted in parliament by Communist leader Jacques Duclos, Socialist parliamentary leader Antoine Courrière, former interior minister Francis Mitterand and independent deputy Guy Petit.

The questions add up roughly to this: Is de Gaulle planning to alter France's existing institutions by resorting to another popular referendum?

MAPPING STRATEGY
Senate President Gaston De Monneville, who would become acting president if anything happened to de Gaulle, already has come out openly against any change of the constitution, except through strictly legal channels.

This means that de Gaulle would have to obtain the approval of the national assembly for the constitutional changes he wants.

Nazis Beat Brand Jew

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (Reuters) — Dr. Maximo H. del Blanco, an Argentine Jew, was beaten unconscious by four unidentified youths Monday night, bundled into a car and branded with swastikas on his thigh.

It was the third similar incident in recent days.

Police sources described the assailants as a small group of pro-Nazis trying to stir up trouble in university circles.

Back from Peace Rally

Russians More Tolerant Toward West—Chisholm

Dr. Bruck Chisholm, just back from Moscow where he attended a world-wide peace congress, said last night there are indications of increased interest by people everywhere in survival.

He said the 2800 delegates from 119 countries produced a wide variety of attitudes while generally subscribing to the view that survival of the human race was in great danger.

He attended the seven-day congress at the personal invitation of A. V. Topchov, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, whom he met at Pugwash, N.S.

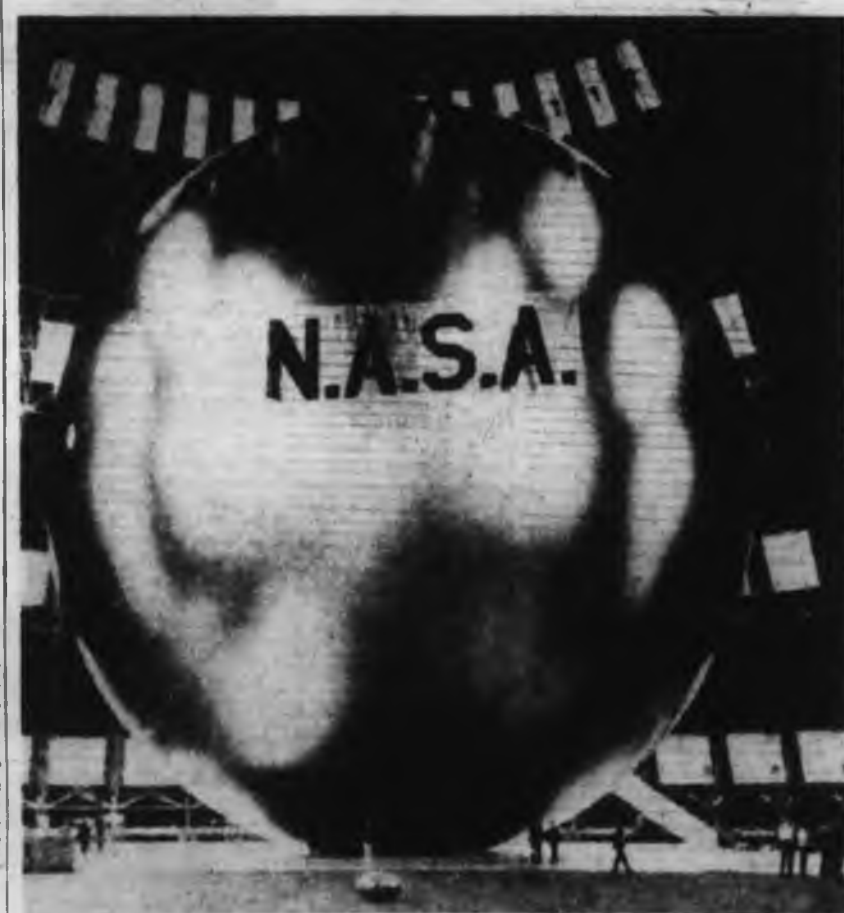

After addressing the congress, Dr. Chisholm was elected chairman of the final plenary session which produced a statement affirming delegates' faith that ultimate destruction can be avoided by application of reason and good sense.

Dr. Chisholm, one of 47 Canadians to attend the congress, said he found among the Russian people he met during his stay a general progression towards "showing more tolerance for Western peculiarities."

He added, "I hope we in the West are moving in the same direction and are becoming more tolerant of their peculiarities."

The congress, in retrospect, was extremely interesting and well worth attending, said Dr. Chisholm. "I don't think anyone could go there with an open mind and fail to learn a great deal about things that are frightening people all over the world," he added.

I Missed Boat Nixon Laments

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richard Nixon hinted Tuesday he still has aspirations for the White House.

Answering questions on a taped television show, the former vice-president was asked to respond to the phrase, "If I could be a moment in history."

Nixon's one-word reply was "President."

Nixon, defeated by John Kennedy in 1960, was taping an appearance on the Your First Impression television show in which a mystery guest comes before the show's panel and is identified by his responses to certain phrases.

Berlin Troops 'No Issue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported to have told Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin Tuesday night that the withdrawal of Western troops from Berlin is not a negotiable issue.

UNUSUAL TALK

The president was said to have stressed a new Western determination on Berlin in an unusual talk with Dobrynin which lasted nearly an hour.

The two conferred alone, without aides, in the president's office. Dobrynin speaks English fluently.

MAJOR ISSUE

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy brought up the major issues of Berlin, disarmament, nuclear testing and Laos.

At this juncture in U.S.-Soviet relations, with State Secretary Dean Rusk about to leave for East-West talks at Geneva, Kennedy decided to talk personally with the Soviet ambassador on the major questions.

'Rude' Song Rouses British TV Audience

LONDON—Downs of view-ers telephoned the BBC to complain Monday that Churchill, 51, the journalist son of Sir Winston Churchill, was "rude" during a television interview.

Churchill and Lord Lamb-ton, a Tory MP, were asked their views on the drastic shuf-fle in the Conservative government. At one point Churchill started singing "They'll get no promotion, this side of the ocean, bless 'em all, bless 'em all."

TORONTO—A 41-year-old woman, Mrs. Jean Callahan, who operated a squalid board-ing house full of small chil-dren was fined $100 for run-ning it without a licence. She also was fined $50 for obstruct-ing a sanitary inspector.

Syria to Seek Oil Field Bids

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)— Syria will call for international bids in the next few days to exploit its newly discovered oil fields, Works Minister Robert Elias announced today. In a statement, the minister es-timated the reserve of Syria's three northeastern oil fields, discovered in the last four years, at 29,200,000,000 barrels.

'Pink Slip' Agency Reopens

VANCOUVER (CP)—The house-trailer office of a Seattle insurance company, its meth-ods of selling slightly changed, is back in business at Blaine, Wash., selling short-term cov-erage for U.S. travelers in B.C.

Police Friday padlocked the trailer on Highway 99 south of Blaine—the border point—and put burlap over the com-pany signs advertising "pink slip" coverage.

COMPLAINTS MADE
The move was requested by B.C. Attorney-General Bonner. Motorists had complained there was misrepresentation in the company's slogans.

Joseph Shropshire, salesman for Ray Miller Agency, said Monday: "One of our signs didn't say enough."

PLAN CHANGE
Motorists said the sign in question simply told them that if they didn't have B.C. pink slips their cars could be im-pounded.

"We plan to alter that sign now and explain that a car could be impounded after an accident in B.C. if there's no pink slip," Shropshire said.

Duncan Planning Parade

DUNCAN—The Cowichan Exhibition parade commemorating Duncan's 50th birthday will show the steady progress the city has undergone in the last half century.

Duncan Jaycees, organizing the parade which will open the Cowichan Fair Saturday, Sept. 3, invite all businesses, service clubs, citizens and their children to take part. No entry is charged but cash prizes will be distributed and all parade participants have free entry to the fairgrounds.

Particulars are available through Jaycee committee members Jack Praliocki, Arle Vandonekelaar, George Schmidt and Mr. R. Hillyard. The parade will start at Centennial Heights, and is expected to last approximately one hour.

NANAIMO — Continuing closure of Stewart Avenue while road construction is in progress came in for an airing at city council meeting.

Western Marine Enterprises objected in a letter to council to being obliged to pay a full year's taxes for a period when their premises have been largely inaccessible. The company sought a rebate of 50 per cent of the amount of the taxes, but the council could not grant the requested relief.

Marina and restaurant owners are particularly critical of the timing of the road work, which has virtually brought business to a standstill at the time of year usually most profitable for them.

UCULELET — Provincial highway department work-men are widening the Uclelet-Tofino highway, on a five-mile stretch from the end of pavement in Uclelet to the junction with the Alberni Highway.

Later in the season it is planned to pave this stretch.

DUNCAN — The local and the Cowichan Lake branch of the Old Age Pensioners Organization will hold a joint picnic at Honeymoon Bay Friday, July 20.

At a recent meeting one of several resolutions proposed amalgamation of the OAPO with the Senior Citizens' Association.

DUNCAN—Local man John W. Vaneck pleaded guilty to two charges of stealing money from parking meters in the downtown area of Duncan May 31 and June 3, and was fined $100 on each count in police court. Court was told a number of meters were damaged and robbed.

NANAIMO—City council has recorded its unanimous support of the Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities in its opposition to Premier Bennett's proposals to withdraw grants to municipalities.

NANAIMO—As vacationers no doubt realize, official records in Nanaimo for July to date show rainfall greatly in excess of July, 1961.

So far this month 77 of an inch has fallen, which is more

TOTINO—During reconstruction of the main government wharf here freight consigned for Totino by ship will be dis-charged at Uclelet.

The job, handled by Victoria Pile Driving Company and em-ploying five men, is expected to take six weeks to two months.

NANAIMO—School District 60 announced Tuesday that all vac-an-cies on the school teacher staff have been filled. A spokes-man for the school board stated that it is quite unusual for the full complement of teachers to be reached so early in the year.

UCULELET — Resident here since 1911, Mrs. Kate Karn, widow of William Karn, died recently in her 94th year at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Thompson.

Mrs. Karn was born in Steb-bing, England, Oct. 3, 1868.

Algeria

Premier Ouster Sought

ALGIERS (AP) — Leftist rebels in western Algeria Tuesday demanded the resignation of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and his moderate government.

The rebels—followers of dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella—made a veiled threat to use force if Ben Khedda failed to step down.

"THREAT"

Former deputy premier Mohammed Khider told a press conference at rebel headquarters in Tlemcen that Ben Khedda and his regime were "a group of usurpers whose resignation would be an intelligent decision that would help solve Algeria's political crisis."

Khider, top aide of Ben Bella, was the first minister to break with Ben Khedda when the dispute came into the open on the day of Algerian independence, July 3. Unlike Ben Bella, Khider formally resigned from his government post.

VEILED THREAT

He warned that if the current secret conference of the six politico-military commanders of the guerrilla army failed to produce a satisfactory solution, "we will draw all the consequences from this failure, and will face all our responsibilities without exception."

Although he refused to amplify this remark, it was interpreted as a veiled threat to resort to force.

'Paper' in Space Puzzles X-15 Pilot

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Maj. Bob White Tuesday flew the X-15 rocket ship to record altitude for winged aircraft of almost 30 miles, and reported seeing a strange paper-like object tumbling in space.

"We've never seen anything like this before," the 38-year-old air force test pilot said with reference to past X-15 flights. "I haven't the slightest idea what it was."

White reached an altitude of 310,000 feet — or 58.7 miles, according to preliminary figures. That qualified him under air force regulations as America's fifth astronaut and the first in a winged aircraft to fly higher than 50 miles.

As White neared the end of his flight, he radioed "this gets better all the time, it's a fantastic view."

The altitude record is subject to adjustment after the national Aeronautics and Space Administration makes a final study of flight data.

White will be presented with astronaut's wings at a ceremony in Washington today. He — along with three fellow test pilots in the X-15 — also will receive the Distinguished Service Medal and Collier trophy.

New Proposals?

Medicare Mood Changing

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan doctors were ported softening in their opposition to the province's medical care insurance plan as the focal point of the 10-year-old dispute swung northward to Saskatoon Tuesday.

Dr. H. D. Dalgleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, is to address the provincial convention of the CCF-NDP at Saskatoon this afternoon and there was speculation that he would make a new proposal for solution of the impasse. (See also Page 5.)

He said at a Saskatoon press conference Tuesday that he was undecided about what to say at the convention, but later added:

"There are other ways of instituting (medical care) insurance that have never been seriously considered by both parties."

A college spokesman said the college's opposition has softened since the government implemented its comprehensive, pre-paid medical care plan.

BEGIN ARGUMENT

Argument began in Queen's Bench Court here Tuesday for an interim injunction that would suspend the act until its validity could be tested in the courts in September.

Most other action in the controversy was scheduled for Saskatoon, where Premier Woodrow Lloyd, whose leadership of the provincial CCF-NDP goes on the line at a convention election, was to report to the convention this morning on medical care, before Dr. Dalgleish's address.

Also on the convention program was a speech by British Labor peer Lord Taylor, invited to Saskatchewan by the government for medical care discussions.

It also was announced that Dr. J. E. C. Anderson, past president of the Canadian Medical Association, was on his way to Belfast to address a policy-making meeting of the British Medical Association.

It was also learned that the Saskatchewan Keep-Our-Doctors Committee has sent three men to England to present to British doctors the doctors' side of the case.

Strike Is Off

ROME (Reuters) — Italy's 25,000 hospital staff doctors Tuesday agreed to call off a four-day strike scheduled to start today.

The cancellation came after last-minute talks with the government.

The doctors called the strike to support demands for higher pay and better career prospects. Skeleton services would have been on call to attend emergency cases in hospitals.

Prober

Mr. Justice H. F. Thomson of Wolseley, Sask., has been appointed as one-man Saskatchewan royal commission to investigate complaints concerning granting of hospital privileges to certain doctors.

Kennedy Plan Loss 'Severe Blow to All'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Tuesday killed by a 52-to-48 vote President Kennedy's plan to help the elderly pay hospital and nursing care bills.

bringing a prompt denunciation from the president.

Within an hour after the legislative setback for the administration, Kennedy appeared before reporters to call the action "a most serious defeat for every American family." He said he will offer the plan again next year and appealed to the voters to show they want it by their choice of members of Congress in November elections.

LONG DICKERING

The climactic action after months of pressure and dickering by both sides, gave a psychological lift to members of Congress seeking to block other Kennedy proposals. It came on top of defeat of Kennedy's farm and urban affairs department proposals, alteration of some key administration bills as aid to education.

Twenty-one Democrats — 17 of them southerners — joined 31 Republicans in dealing the death blow to Kennedy's social security approach to health care for the aged. Only five Republicans — who co-sponsored the plan — joined 3 Democrats in trying to save it.

It was the first time all 100 members were on hand for a vote since last February.

De Gaulle Seeks U.S.-Style Post

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle was reported ready Tuesday to press a drive to change his office into something resembling the U.S. presidency and to create a vice-president's post for his eventual successor.

The way for de Gaulle's plan was cleared by Monday night's government victory in a census vote aimed at up-setting his government and by the extension of his special powers to enable him to suppress his right-wing enemies.

The French leader is known to want the constitution changed so that a president can be elected more along the American pattern and to provide for an heir to the presidency in the form of a vice-president.

Four questions concerning de Gaulle's project have been submitted in parliament by Communist leader Jacques Duclos, Socialist parliamentary leader Antoine Courrière, former interior minister Francois Mitterrand and independent deputy Guy Petit.

The questions add up roughly to this: Is de Gaulle planning to alter France's existing institutions by resorting to another popular referendum?

MAPPING STRATEGY

Senate President Gaston de Monneville, who would become acting president if anything happened to de Gaulle, already has come out openly against any change of the constitution, except through strictly legal channels.

This means that de Gaulle would have to obtain the approval of the national assembly for the constitutional changes he wants.

Iranian Cabinet Resigns

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The Iranian cabinet headed by Premier AM Amidi, who brought pledges of economic reform and clean government into office 14 months ago, has resigned. It was announced today.

The mass resignation came during a budget dispute.

Back from Peace Rally

Russians More Tolerant Toward West—Chisholm

Dr. Brock Chisholm, just back from Moscow where he attended a worldwide peace congress, said last night there are indications of increased interest by people everywhere in survival.

He said the 2,800 delegates from 119 countries produced a wide variety of attitudes while generally subscribing to the view that survival of the human race was in great danger.

Dr. Chisholm termed this a "healthy phenomenon" and noted the absence of party line from congress proceedings.

He attended the seven-day congress at the personal invitation of A. V. Topchov, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, whom he met at Pugwash, N.S.

After addressing the congress, Dr. Chisholm was elected chairman of the final plenary session which produced a statement affirming delegates' faith that ultimate destruction can be avoided by application of reason and good sense.

Dr. Chisholm, one of 47 Canadians to attend the congress, said he found among the Russian people he met during his stay a general progression towards "showing more tolerance for Western peculiarities."

He added, "I hope we in the West are moving in the same direction and are becoming more tolerant of their peculiarities."

The congress, in retrospect, was extremely interesting and well worth attending, said Dr. Chisholm. "I don't think any one could go there with an open mind and fail to learn a great deal about things that are frightening people all over the world," he added.

ADVISERS BREAK OWN SMOKE LAW EXPERTS CLAIM

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Staff Writer

Victoria's embattled smoke advisory committee has broken its own smoke bylaw, legal experts told the Colonist yesterday.

Careful scrutiny of the smoke bylaw and recent events in the city's on-again-off-again crusade to purify Victoria skies indicated a chain of bylaw infractions by the board dating back to July 3 when it approved a two-week moratorium on legal action against industrial violators.

Sources familiar with municipal law say the board has no right to suspend the bylaw.

The board, said the experts, also effectively prevented city smoke inspector Thomas Walker from fulfilling what the smoke bylaw terms his "duty."

In issuing the first two-week truce in which smoke bylaw offenders would be warned and not prosecuted, the board not only usurped illegally the powers of city council to suspend a bylaw, but also exceeded its own powers as set forth in the smoke bylaw, said the experts.

THREE INSTANCES

Yesterday the board contravened the bylaw in three separate instances:

● It carried out the functions of the board without a quorum.

● It extended the non-prosecution truce.

● It acted outside its powers as defined in the bylaw.

SAME CHARGE

And according to one interpretation of the bylaw the board could be prosecuted under the same charge as that laid by the city against smoke offenders.

The bylaw makes liable to prosecution every person who

Military Pressure

Foiled Voters Back Ex-Chief of Peru

LIMA (AP) — Followers of Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, front-runner in the June 10 presidential election, Tuesday night threw their support to retired Gen. Manuel Odría for Peru's presidency.

Headquarters of Haya's popular Revolutionary Alliance said it will back Odría in an effort to end the political crisis resulting from armed forces opposition to Haya.

LIMA (UPI) — A column of 30 tanks and armored cars carrying heavily armed troops surrounded the presidential palace early today shortly after the government defied military demands to cancel last month's presidential elections.

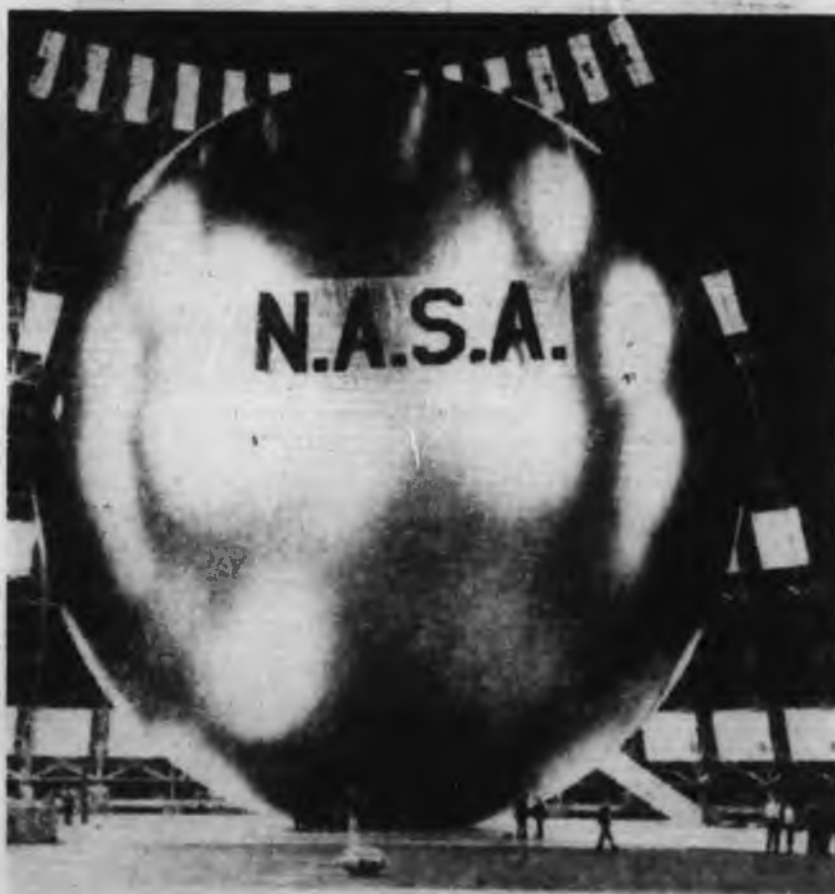

No one could say immediately whether they had been dispatched to take over the government or to protect it.

There was no immediate word on the military reaction to the move. Earlier in the day chiefs of the army, navy and air force called on the national electoral board to annul the election.

Odría headed Peru's government from 1948 to 1956.

I Missed Boat Nixon Laments

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Richard Nixon hinted Tuesday he still has aspirations for the White House.

Answering questions on a taped television show, the former vice president was asked to respond to the phrase "If I could be a moment in history."

Nixon's one-word reply was "President."

Nixon, defeated by John Kennedy in 1960, was taping an appearance on the Your First Impression television show in which a mystery guest comes before the show's panel and is identified by his responses to certain phrases.

Responding to a query whether he had a single regret, Nixon answered, "I wasn't assigned to duty on a PT boat."

Berlin Troops 'No Issue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported to have told Soviet Ambassador Anatoly P. Dobrynin Tuesday night that the withdrawal of Western troops from Berlin is not a negotiable issue.

UNUSUAL TALK

The president was said to have stressed a new Western determination on Berlin in an unusual talk with Dobrynin which lasted nearly an hour.

The two conferred alone, without aides, in the president's office. Dobrynin speaks English fluently.

MAJOR ISSUE

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy brought up the major issues of Berlin, disarmament, nuclear testing and Laos.

At this juncture in U.S.-Soviet relations, with State Secretary Dean Rusk about to leave for East-West talks at Geneva, Kennedy decided to talk personally with the Soviet ambassador on the major questions.
